We are pleased to present the 2026 Missouri ACC Annual Update in Cardiovascular Diseases on August 29, 2026 in Columbia, MO. This meeting will showcase the wide breadth of cardiovascular medicine that is present throughout Missouri.

We will begin the day with an ACC Update by ACC's Board of Governor's Chair Renuka Jain, M.D., FACC. Our keynote speaker Colleen Harrington, M.D., FACC, will discuss Prevention.

Our morning session will feature a Guidelines Update Session on Hypertension, Dyslipidemia and ACS. We will then feature a case based session on the Multi-Disciplinary Management of Complex Cases including Valves, CKM, and ACHD, HF and EP. To wrap up the morning, we will discuss Innovation and the Evolving Patient Conversation.

The lunch will feature a spirited Fellows In Training Jeopardy Session with participants from training programs from across the state. In addition, Fellows in Training will participate in a Poster Competition.

The afternoon will feature four discussions covering the cardiology spectrum including pediatrics, left atrial appendage closure, cardio-oncology and general cardiology.

We ask that you support this very important and informative meeting.

NATIONAL SPEAKERS

Renuka Jain, MD, FACC, is an interventional echocardiographer at Aurora St. Luke's Medical Center in Milwaukee, WI. She serves as Director of Echocardiography for the Advocate Aurora Health Midwest Region and is an adjunct clinical associate professor at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health.

Her research focuses on valvular heart disease and structural heart interventions.

Jain received her medical degree from Columbia University and completed internal medicine residency at New York-Presbyterian Hospital, followed by cardiology fellowship at the University of Michigan Hospitals. She is the current ACC Governor for Wisconsin, an associate editor of Structural Heart Journal, and serves on the editorial boards of JACC: Case Reports and the Journal of the American Society of Echocardiography.

Colleen Harrington, MD, FACC earned her medical degree from Drexel University College of Medicine and was inducted into the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society. She was the recipient of The Janet M. Glasgow Memorial Achievement Citation of the American Medical Women's Association for academic excellence, The Beatrice

Sterling Hollander, MD Award for leadership, high character and creativeness in the medical profession and the William Likoff, MD Award for distinction in the care of medical patients and academic excellence

She completed her clinical training in Internal Medicine at Johns Hopkins Hospital and received the Normal D. Anderson Award by the Osler Internal Medicine Residency for outstanding, compassionate care in the ambulatory setting. She served as chief resident (Assistant Chief of Service) of the Osler Medicine House Staff Program and Instructor of Medicine of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. She then completed her cardiovascular fellowship at Johns Hopkins Hospital which included an advanced fellowship in echocardiography and coronary CT angiography.

Prior to joining Massachusetts General Hospital, Dr. Harrington was an Assistant Professor of Medicine at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and then at the University of Massachusetts Chan Medical School where she was awarded the Early Career Achievement Award in Medicine and Research in 2020. She also served as the Associate Program Director of the cardiovascular fellowship program and Co-Director of the cardiovascular disease and pregnancy clinic.

Dr. Harrington is a faculty member of the Women's Heart Health Program and Cardio-Obstetrics Program at Massachusetts General Hospital. She is an Associate Program Director of the MGH cardiovascular fellowship program. Her clinical and research interests include cardiovascular disease in women, cardio-obstetrics, preventive cardiology, and noninvasive cardiovascular imaging. She is board certified in Internal Medicine, Cardiovascular Medicine, Echocardiography and Coronary CT angiography. She is the immediate Past Governor of the Massachusetts Chapter of the American College of Cardiology.
